

The Bridge

learn.grow.serve.

published by Taylor College and Seminary

Vol. 51, No. 1 - Spring 2010

Conservatory of Music at Taylor

The music continues at Taylor this fall, pg. 3

E P Wahl Centre Dedication

Service of consecration June 11th, pg. 5

Grad 2010: in Pictures

Two-dozen students graduate from Taylor, pg. 6-7

COVER: Taylor Seminary student Dr. Aaron Au; see pg. 8, 11.

A Note from the President

It has been a busy spring of travel, attending conferences and events around western Canada and in cities further south. It has been a joy to meet with friends, supporters and alumni during my travels, especially to see the continued interest in Taylor and the support of so many.

In one meeting, a regional gathering of church leaders, I asked for a show of hands of those who had in some way been involved in the educational ministry of Taylor. Over half of the people in the room raised their hands – an amazing testimony to the ongoing work of training new generations of leaders.

That work of developing leadership skills for the Church continues at Taylor – in fact, it is growing. Taylor Seminary recently graduated twenty-four students, and inquiries from prospective students are rising. We have served hundreds of people through the E P Wahl Centre over the fall and winter, offering workshops and seminars that build skills or help people to develop spiritually.

I'm also very pleased to say that a Music Conservatory is about to be launched at Taylor! High quality music instruction will begin this fall under the capable leadership of Marg Daly. This new initiative has come together quickly, and seems to be riding a wave of interest and support. Taylor will continue to serve as a place where people glorify God with their musical gifts, and I'm excited about the possibilities.

There is one other way in which Taylor is growing, and that is in our ability to serve students where they live and serve. By offering courses in local communities (as well as on-campus), by offering courses online and by offering more modular (1- or 2-week) courses, we are improving our ability to take our training to where students live and serve. These changes will require ongoing investment and attention, but the results are already evident in the interest shown by prospective students.

Of course, Taylor continues to deal with the impact of our recent financial situation. It requires faith to plant new seeds in a time of challenge, but we are confident that we need to follow when we are led, and good stewardship requires us to adjust to meet changing needs. Taylor's fiscal year ends on June 30th, and the goal of reaching our budget targets is within reach. Going forward, staffing and wage levels are being reduced to ensure sustainability – a necessary step in our process of re-building.

As I close, I want to pay a very special tribute to one staff member who is leaving Taylor after nearly three decades of service. Renetta Geisler has been central to the smooth functioning of the seminary for most of that time, and has helped to guide hundreds of students through the bewildering world of academia. She has also been a tower of strength for the faculty. Last year, Renetta joined the ranks of our graduates after completing her BA with us. I want to publicly thank Renetta for her service, and we all wish her well in the days ahead.

As always, we continue to value your prayers and support. If you would like to respond to anything you read in this edition of The Bridge, please feel free to drop me a line (David.Williams@Taylor-Edu.ca).

Shalom!

David Williams, Ph.D.
President, Taylor College and Seminary
Director, E P Wahl Centre

Graduation is always such a joyful celebration – for students, of course, as well as their families, but also for an institution. Taylor proudly conferred degrees upon two-dozen graduates recently. We will miss having this fine group of students on campus regularly!

For faculty and staff, graduation also marks the end of a term, and represents a chance to catch our breath – maybe even catch some sun (and golf, I hope!). Yet this will be a busy summer: students in Palestine on a peace-making mission, the Wahl Centre Dedication, Fusion training, and planning for a number of conferences and events this fall. The expected close of the land sale will mean more organizing, as we adjust to a smaller footprint.

Working on the upcoming dedication of the Wahl Centre has given us reason to reflect on the life of Dr. E.P. Wahl. There were some very striking characteristics to his ministry, and we hope to do his legacy justice on June 11th. I hope you can join us then.

Tim Willson
Communications and Marketing Director
Editor, The Bridge

The Bridge

Vol. 51, No. 1, Spring 2010

Published by

Taylor College and Seminary

to communicate with students, alumni, friends and supporters.

Editor: Tim Willson
TheBridge@Taylor-Edu.ca

Taylor College and Seminary
11525 - 23 Avenue NW
Edmonton, AB T6J 4T3

The Music Continues at Taylor this Fall

by Tim Willson

Taylor College and Seminary is pleased to announce that a Conservatory of Music will be launched in Fall 2010. Featuring a group of accomplished and well-known instructors from the Edmonton area, the Conservatory of Music at Taylor will serve students with lessons, classes, choirs and other instruction. The new logo for the Conservatory features a stylized music note that forms the letters "C" and "M" and includes the "Taylor" word mark.

"For 70 years, music has been a part of this institution," says Taylor President Dr. David Williams. "We are delighted that this new initiative will strengthen this important connection with our roots. Of course, we also recognize that musicians of all ages are eager to develop their skills, and Taylor is looking forward to providing a place of excellence in music instruction."

Heading up the Conservatory of Music at Taylor will be Marg Daly. Ms. Daly has extensive experience in the arts, having started a similar conservatory in St. Albert and developed one in Lloydminster, having served as administrator of music programs at two post-secondary institutions, and having taught flute, piano, harmony and music history for many years.

Joining Marg will be Diana Wiens, conductor of the Taylor Community Choir and the Taylor Children's Community Choir). Other instructors include Denice

The Conservatory of Music at Taylor will officially launch in the Fall of 2010, and is expecting to serve many students of all ages and abilities .

Bennett (voice, vocal literature, vocal pedagogy, music appreciation), Leslie Mahr (violin, viola, beginner piano), Dorie Gold (flute) and Harold Wens (voice). A number of other instructors are expected to formally join the conservatory in the weeks ahead.

"We have had a very positive response already from instructors and students," says director Marg Daly. "The calibre of instruction will be very high, and students of all ages are going to be well-served."

The Conservatory of Music will be located in Muller Hall at the Taylor campus. Minor repairs and renovations are about to begin to four rooms on the first floor, and instruments will be moved into place from across campus in the weeks ahead. Recitals and other performances will be held in Stencil Hall, Taylor's lecture theatre.

A formal launch is planned for August 2010, and instruction will begin in September. TB

Planning Meeting

Instructors with the Conservatory of Music at Taylor meet in the Benke Lounge on May 7, 2010 to plan the Fall 2010 season. The group also worked on details surrounding the move into renovated space in Muller Hall. Pictured with Conservatory Director Marg Daly (second from left) are Dorie Gold (right), Leslie Mahr (foreground) and Denice Bennet (left). A number of other instructors are also expected to bring their expertise to the new conservatory. (Photo: Tim Willson)

An Update on Changes at Taylor

A Progress Report on Land, Programs, Budgets and People

The winter of 2009-10 will be remembered for a number of changes and developments. None of them was monumental on their own, yet together they represent continued progress in carrying out a long-term plan to stabilize and revitalize the institution.

Some of the key changes surround program changes at Taylor Seminary. Our condensed MDiv program, now 77-hours (down from 96 hours), was given formal approval by the Association of Theological Schools (ATS). ATS also reaffirmed Taylor's accreditation, and approved a partnership with Carey Theological College. That partnership allows for the sharing of resources and makes each school an extension site of the other. It also means that students can now study for a DMin at Taylor (call for details on this opportunity: 780-431-5200).

Taylor has also introduced a new specialization: "Master of Arts in Intercultural Studies - TESOL." Offered jointly with Edmonton's Vanguard College, this program will prepare students for a career teaching English, whether in Canada or abroad.

Another important change deals with the way instruction is delivered. An increasing number of courses are being offered online (serving students around the world), others are being offered in a modular format (1-week or 2-week intensives). Taylor will also offer courses in other communities such as Kelowna (Sept 17-18, Oct 22-23 and Nov 26-27), and in Red Deer and Grande Prairie at dates to be announced later.

Programming for the E P Wahl Centre and for the Conservatory of Music (pg. 3) are moving quickly; initiatives related to college-level instruction continue to be developed, and will be discussed at a future date.

Taylor's financial health is also being restored. A better-than-expected response to a mortgage bond provided interim financing, and the long process of selling a large portion of the campus is nearly complete. Significantly, donations from the Taylor constituency have also been slightly ahead of expectations.

A return to full financial health did require more belt-tightening, however; the budget for 2010-11 included further painful staff cuts and significant wage reductions. As challenging as these decisions have been, they mean that Taylor is looking forward to a sustainable future. The efforts to adjust our educational offerings to meet the needs of students also continue to bear fruit, and the future appears bright. TB

Trustees' Service to Taylor Recognized

Outgoing chair of the Taylor Board of Trustees, Barry Kossowan (second from right) stands with other long-serving trustees whose terms have been completed. Following the March board meetings, these trustees were presented with gifts of appreciation commemorating their service to Taylor. Pictured from the left are Dr. Ron Hiller, Brenda Merrifield, Rev. Jay Stevans, Elaine Domning and (at right) Rev. Neal Effa.
(Photo: Tim Willson)

E P Wahl Centre Dedication

New Continuing Education initiative dedicated June 11, 2010

While the E P Wahl Centre has already begun its work, a formal dedication service on June 11, 2010 will officially introduce and kick off this work, and will consecrate it to the work of offering lifelong Kingdom learning.

Named for Taylor's founder, Dr. E.P. Wahl, the new centre recaptures his vision of a place of short-term learning for new generations of church leaders. It values participation of believers from all denominational backgrounds, emphasizes Christian service, and, of course, preparation for that service. It will function less as a school and more as a network of educational partners working together to serve the mission of God.

Formed as a response to the needs expressed by church leaders, the E P Wahl Centre at Taylor seeks to be a place of training for lay leaders and clergy. A process of assessing the training needs of churches laid the groundwork, and Taylor began to respond to those needs with a modest slate of programming in 2008-09.

At the March 2010 Board Meetings, trustees approved the documents that will guide the Wahl

Centre: a mission statement, a statement of values and purpose, etc., but also a schedule of upcoming events. These will be shared and discussed as part of the formal launch in June.

The director of the new centre is Dr. David Williams (also president of Taylor College and Seminary), and there are two associate directors: Dr. Terry Fossen and Rev. Dr. Myron Penner. Penner's involvement came as part of a unique partnership between Taylor and the Anglican Diocese of Edmonton, in that the diocese pays his salary for time spent working with the Wahl Centre. Another key member of the steering committee has been Dr. Harvey Hiller of Hinton, AB – a CTI graduate with expertise in education.

In a little over a year, the Wahl Centre has held workshops for sound techs and children's ministry workers, organized a new children's choir, initiated a weekly exploration of scripture known as onWORD, and organized numerous other events and gatherings. Hundreds of people have already attended Wahl Centre events. TB

Who was Dr. E.P. Wahl?

Educator, Pastor, Broadcaster, Mentor, Change-Agent

The memory of Emil Peter Wahl will be honored as part of the official dedication service for the E P Wahl Centre on June 11, 2010. Affectionately known as "Papa Wahl" by his students, Dr. Wahl was a mentor and a builder, establishing two institutions in the Edmonton area: CTI and Salem Manor, a local nursing home. (CTI became NABC/NABDS, later Taylor.) Wahl served as president of CTI for 17 years and remained involved in the school until his death, and he provided leadership to numerous other initiatives, as well.

The E P Wahl Centre, with its emphasis on education and service, is a fitting tribute to this man of action. Visit www.Taylor-Edu.ca for details on programs and events available through the Wahl Centre. TB

The E P Wahl Centre will be officially dedicated on June 11, 2010 at the Taylor Chapel

Grad 2010

1.

2.

3.

4.

5.

6.

7.

8.

9.

10.

11.

12.

13.

14.

1. 24 men and women graduated from Taylor Seminary in 2010. 2. Rev. Peter Schroeder ('60) delivers the Commencement Address on the 50th Anniversary of his own graduation from this institution. 3. Tony Porter 4. Heather Roukema-Gritter 5. Alfred Chui 6. Roger Chen and Lyn Beddoes pay tribute to faculty during the Grad Banquet. 7. Roger Chen chats with Dr. Jerry Shepherd following the ceremony. 8. Suk Ha Li ("Wendy Li") 9. Dr. David Williams presents returning student Christine Enfield with a scholarship. 10. Sisters Catherine (left) and Miranda Poon celebrate together after receiving their degrees. 11. Ming Hei Cheuk ("Hayes") 12. Andrew Leung 13. Julianna Bienert accepts congratulations from Board Chair Barry Kossowan. 14. 17 years after beginning his MTS studies, Pastor Rick Foster graduates with a smile.

15.

16.

17.

18.

15. Norm Bleik embraces his wife Gabriele following the grad ceremony. 16. Doug Lawson is hooded by Taylor Board Chair Barry Kossowan. 17. Lyn Beddoes with her daughter Megan. 18. MTS Grad Garry Engler, a hospital chaplain, tries out a new look for grad. 19. Matthew Chute tries to coax a smile out of his niece. 20. Velvet Eliuk is presented with a Bible by Marvin Busenius of the Canadian Bible Society. 21. Cheryl Krueger was this year's Valedictorian. She was also head of the Taylor Seminary Students' Association this year; she hopes to serve as a hospital chaplain after further training.

2010 Scholarships and Academic Awards

Faculty Scholarship: Christine Enfield

This scholarship is awarded to the individual who achieves the highest grade point average during the two semesters of the current academic year.

The Taylor Alumni Association Scholarship: Ryan Schnee

This award acknowledges a student who has performed at an exceptional academic level, whose behaviour and conduct are exemplary, and who is seeking placement in full-time vocational ministry.

Doris and Gerald Borchert Scholarship in New Testament Studies: Christine Enfield

This scholarship awarded to a second-year student who distinguishes him/herself in New Testament Studies.

Dewey Intercultural Studies Award: Roger Chen

Former Taylor President Marvin Dewey and his late wife Becky established this scholarship to be awarded to the student who demonstrates competence in and concern for intercultural ministry.

Sonnenberg Leadership Scholarship (3 recipients):

Philip Chow, Christine Enfield, Ryan Schnee

This scholarship, sponsored by President Emeritus Dr. Joseph Sonnenberg, is awarded to a second-year student(s), to recognize outstanding leadership ability.

William Sturhahn Preaching Award: Norm Bleik

Made possible by the family of Dr. William Sturhahn, this scholarship is for a graduating student who demonstrates special proficiency in preaching.

Dan Leverette Memorial Scholarship: Ming Hei Cheuk ("Hayes")

This scholarship is given to a Master of Divinity student committed to the practice of youth ministry and who is preparing for full-time vocational ministry with youth.

Canadian Bible Society Award for Public Reading of Scripture: Velvet Eliuk

Each year the Canadian Bible Society awards a Bible to a student who has demonstrated excellence in the public reading of Scripture.

We are deeply grateful for the friends of the seminary who have made these scholarships and awards possible. We thank you for your generosity.

19.

20.

21.

in pictures | Fall 2009 - Winter 2010

ABOVE: 1. "Hold that note!" Diana Wiens warms up the Taylor Children's Community Choir before the 2010 Spring Concert performance. 2, 3. Members of the Taylor Children's Community Choir sing at their year-end concert.

BELOW: 4. Best-selling author and speaker Mary Kassian speaks at onWORD, February 2010. Her topic was "Girls Gone Wise," a contrast between wisdom and foolishness in Proverbs 7. | 5. Two hares ("Harry" and "Harriet") take shelter under a tree on the Taylor campus on a cool winter morning. | 6. Janna Olson (left) and seminary student Aaron Au perform at a fund-raising concert for peace and reconciliation (cellist Julie Amundsen also performed). Proceeds from the event at Greenfield Baptist Church were used in support of a peace-making trip to Palestine and Israel by Taylor Seminary students in May 2010. | 7. Speaking at the same Peace and Reconciliation event, Dr. Ibrahim Sumrain, a former Taylor adjunct faculty member, shares his experience growing as an Arab Christian in the West Bank. | 8. Dr. John Stackhouse of Regent College was the featured speaker at the 2010 E.P. Wahl Lectures, which drew an appreciative crowd of seminarians, pastors and other church leaders. | 9. Taylor alumnus Pastor Greg Hochhalter of Sherwood Park Alliance Church, taught a series on Jonah for onWORD in April. | 10. Another onWORD speaker was Dr. Eileen Conway, a retired English professor from U of A and an ordained Anglican priest. She led a series of contemplative readings of the accounts of Christ on trial. | 11. Fusion Canada, which shares office space on the Taylor campus and offers training in conjunction with the E P Wahl Centre, has welcomed a new administrator. Dr. Claire Benkole was a pediatrician until she felt led to become part of Fusion International; she anticipates spending 18 months in Canada helping organize and train volunteers.

News and Notes

In Sympathy

Marie Muller of Edmonton, AB passed away on December 1, 2009. Marie was married to Dr. Willy Muller for almost 60 years; the couple served in pastoral ministry together, as faculty at Taylor, and as missionaries in Cameroon. She also served as Dean of Women at Sioux Falls College (which is where she met the theological student who would become her husband).

Con Schroeder of Kelowna, BC passed away in October after a battle with cancer. He leaves behind his wife of 62 years, Jeanette, and many friends.

A number of other members of the Taylor family have passed away recently, including:

Norman Dreger, Kelowna, BC
Anne Wolgemuth, Abbotsford, BC
Sharon Dickau ('73), Red Deer, AB

Norm Dreger

Sharon Dickau ('73)

Updates from Alumni

New Joel Shepherd CD Release

Joel Shepherd ('MM) has released a new CD of worship music titled Journey of the Soul. Five years in the making, Joel wrote all of the words and music, and called on an extended community of 40 other musicians to be part of the project. A worship concert/CD Release party was held on April 24th at West Meadows Baptist Church in Edmonton. Hear samples at www.joelshepherd.ca.

Sandra Child ('86) writes from Calgary to say that she is working with special needs children. She is attending Central United Church, and is involved with the choirs and a smaller contemporary ensemble; she is also involved with United Church Women at an organizational level.

Aaron Radke ('96, Music) is living in Delta, BC with his wife, Jennifer, and their two children. He works as a scale model builder.

Marvin Franke ('71) works as a facilities manager for the Town of Trochu, and attends Trochu Baptist Church with his wife, Cheryl. He has served as a volunteer fireman for 30 years. Marvin and Cheryl have two daughters.

Jennifer McLarty (nee Hoogerdijk) ('00) writes with happy news from Winnipeg: she and her husband Darran are expecting their first child. Jennifer also reports that she is loving her work at an inner-city Christian school.

Faculty and Staff News

Renetta Geisler Bids Farewell

Taylor Seminary bids farewell to long-time staff member Renetta Geisler, who has served at the school for many years. During recent graduation exercises, students and faculty paid tribute to her tireless service and encouragement.

Dr. Gary Nelson Accepts Tyndale Presidency

Former Taylor adjunct faculty member and long-time Edmonton pastor, Dr. Gary Nelson (above), has been announced as the new president of Tyndale University College and Seminary in Toronto. Nelson replaces the retiring Dr. Brian Stiller. Dr. Nelson was a long-time pastor at First Baptist in Edmonton, and for the past ten years has served as General Secretary of the Canadian Baptist Ministries. At Taylor, he taught courses in Pastoral Care.

Alumni Updates

I invite you to share your news with us -- marriages, moves, careers... we want to note these important events! Please stay in touch by email: alumni@Taylor-Edu.ca, or Terry.Fossen@Taylor-Edu.ca.

Telephone: 780-431-5200

Summer Open House and BBQ

If you are interested in studying at Taylor, this is your opportunity to be introduced to Taylor Seminary's Faculty and Staff along with Taylor Seminary's Student Association.

TAYLOR
SEMINARY

You can look forward to:

- Meeting our Faculty and Staff
- Having opportunity to mingle with other potential students
- Hearing from some of the Faculty on areas pertaining to their expertise
- Hearing a report from a Taylor student about the 2010 Global Study Tour to Palestine/Israel
- Drawing for a $400.00 Tuition Reduction Voucher and 2 other special prizes if you have handed in your application (You are eligible for the draw if basic application information is received by 8:00pm at the BBQ)

Make this a great end to a week of work and a new beginning for your involvement with Taylor Seminary! We are looking forward to hosting you at this event.

Friday, June 11, 2010, 6:00pm-9:00pm (rain or shine!) | Supper served at 6:30pm
RSVP by Monday June 7 at 4:30pm to: Rick@TaylorSeminary.ca | 780-431-5215

NOTE: Students around the world can study with us online, and this year we are expanding the number of modular and online courses. Be sure to ask how you can study with us as you continue to serve where you live!

the Fall Semester begins August 30, 2010

Dr. Joost Pikkert is Academic Dean of Taylor Seminary, and teaches in the Intercultural Studies program. He has degrees from Prairie, Wheaton and University of Nebraska. At this writing, Joost (pronounced YOST, like "most"), is in the Middle East, leading a Global Studies Tour that includes peace and reconciliation efforts in the West Bank. He is married to Cheryl, and they have two children.

Meet Dr. Joost Pikkert

What church are you currently part of?

Greenfield Baptist Church, Edmonton, AB; Dr. Stefano Piva is our pastor.

What are your main teaching and research interests?

I am interested in missions, missions history, community development and language development. I have been an academic, done Bible translation, consulted for the UN, and worked with Nobel laureate Bishop Belo from East Timor.

What is a little-known fact about you – some 'Joost trivia'?

(Laughs) While doing a teacher-training workshop in Indonesia, I was the subject of a hostage negotiation. 50 guerillas wanted to take me hostage, but the Walak tribe that had adopted me threatened the lives of the hostage-takers, and they backed off.

What brought you to Taylor, and what do you hope to accomplish here?

I'm here because I believe in ensuring that the Church prepares for the future, ensuring that there are men and women who will carry on the 2,000-year old tradition of building the Kingdom of God until He comes again. I'd like to make seminary education as accessible as possible, using new technologies or sending instructors to other locations, for example.

Alumni Profile - Manivone Morrison

by Manivone Morrison (nee Panyasith)

Student: 1990-91 (NABC), Cert. of Biblical Studies
 Current Hometown: Cold Lake, AB (orig. Winnipeg)
 email: mpanyasith@yahoo.ca

"He has used circumstances to bring us to our knees and to Him..."

Life has been interesting, since the time I was a graduate from NABC in 1990. We all have experienced and endured hardship-worry, fear, sin and guilt. However, through many twists and turns of life, by the Grace of God, He has used circumstances to bring us to our knees and to Him.

I was born in Vientiane, Laos, came to Canada 1980 and joined the Canadian Forces in 2004. I was married on 02 May 2009, to a service spouse, who recently returned from a nine month mission overseas. I have lived in Winnipeg for thirty years and am currently posted to Cold Lake, Alberta.

I have a degree in Sociology from the University of Winnipeg and various diplomas from different colleges, beside NABC (e.g., Criminology and Health Care Aide). I have participated in two Canada Summer Games as a Field Hockey Player and I received an athletic scholarship to play for the University of Manitoba Women's Field Hockey team. I enjoy participating in all types of sports.

I look forward to life's journey in its adventuring and challenging moments to come. TB

Top: Taylor alumnus Manivone (Panyasith) Morrison ('91), stands with Michael Morrison, now her husband, at a mess dinner in 2008. She is a Squadron Logistic Officer at 419 Tactical Fighting (Training) Squadron. Bottom Left: Training at Camp Borden. Bottom right: On duty in Alert, N.W.T.

 A photograph of Aaron Au playing the violin. He is wearing a green sweater over a dark shirt and is looking down at his instrument.

"I knew God had some wonderful things in store for me at Taylor Seminary and I have certainly not been disappointed! What I have appreciated most is the integrated approach that Taylor takes towards our education. The academics are not only informative and inspiring, but we are constantly challenged to find contemporary applications for what we are learning. We are supported in doing this by the incredible community of students and professors at Taylor."

-Aaron Au, current student

Dr. Aaron Au was a celebrated violinist with the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra until he surprised his colleagues by stepping down in response to God's call to ministry. He began his studies at Taylor Seminary in 2009; he lives in Edmonton. He is pictured here playing at a Taylor chapel service.

The Anastasis ("Resurrection") Fresco (14th Century),
This fresco is painted on the ceiling of The Chora Church in Istanbul, Turkey

ABOUT THIS FRESCO

Painted on the ceiling of an ancient church in Turkey is a fresco by an unknown artist depicting the "Harrowing of Hell." Having broken down the gates of hell, the risen Christ is seen pulling Adam and Eve (representing all of humanity) from their graves. Known as the Anastasis, this image was likely painted around 1320 A.D. during a restoration of the church; it is a striking image that has often been copied, and with some interesting variations.

This image was one of three classic images of Christ used during a presentation by Dr. Allan Effa as part of the onWORD series at the E P Wahl Centre. This lecture was part of a 'Fine Arts' series that explored scripture using film, drama, music, paintings and photography.

Calling All Artists!

Taylor alumni are invited to submit photographs, paintings and other visual art projects for publication above, or for display on campus. Learn more at www.Taylor-Edu.ca/creative

TAYLOR
SEMINARY • COLLEGE • E P WAHL CENTRE

11525 - 23 Avenue NW, Edmonton, AB T6J 4T3